Dear [redacted]

I have spoken to Mr Barclay, and he and Mrs Barclay would like to thank David and Samantha Cameron for the kind invitation to dinner at their house. Wednesday 25 November is great and they are looking forward to it. They could be at the house between 8.00 and 8.15pm, if that is convenient.

1. We do not have an address, so can you please let us have one in due course.

2. [redacted]

I look forward to speaking to you nearer the time to confirm everything is OK.

Dear [Redacted]

David and Samantha Cameron would like to invite Aidan and [Redacted] Barclay for dinner at their house on Wednesday 25th November.

Unfortunately these dates for dinner at home come up very rarely, with both their busy diaries, so sadly we can not be very flexible on the date. However I hope it works for Aidan and [Redacted] and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Many thanks

Subject: Breakfast on Monday

Dear [redacted]

Hope all is well. David spoke to Aidan Barclay last night and he has asked me to follow up as they agreed to meet for a drink/bite/something next week.

I'm a little bit limited with what I can suggest as David will mainly spend Monday and Tuesday preparing for his Budget response (as well as PMQs) for Wednesday, then he will be on tour out of London on Thursday and Friday. He did ask me to see if Mr Barclay was around for breakfast on Monday though?

Look forward to hearing from you.

Further to our conversation last Friday, I can confirm that Mr & Mrs Aidan Barclay will be away on 14 July and therefore regret they are unable to accept David and Samantha Cameron's kind invitation. However they would like to extend a personal invitation to dinner for after the Summer and Aidan will talk to David about this when they meet next week.

Sorry to bother you again....

David and Samantha Cameron would like to invite Aidan and to a private dinner they are hosting in Downing Street on Wednesday 14th July at 1930 for 2000.

If they are able to accept, would you kindly let me have the best address for a formal invitation to be sent to please? A colleague of mine will follow up with all the logistical details.

Dear Kate

Tuesday 6 July at 18:00 is fine for Aidan Barclay.

[Redacted]

They will both have photo ID and will come in via the Horse Guards entrance.
Aidan says it is no problem to rearrange if you are finding that time is too tight for David.
Kind regards and have a lovely weekend.

Apologies to be a pain (again) on this, but the David now has a statement in the House of Commons on Tuesday afternoon and I can never be too sure how long they will go on for. I obviously don't want him back late, so would Aidan be able to make 1800 instead on Tuesday please?

As discussed, Aidan Barclay is travelling next week but he would be delighted to come to No. 10 for a cup of tea on Friday 4 June at 14:00 hrs and I have put this in his diary.

I will be on holiday from tomorrow for ten days but will have my Blackberry with me for a quick daily catch-up. My colleague, [redacted] will be standing in for me whilst I am away. In any event, I will be back in the office on Wednesday 2 June.

The PM wondered if Aidan Barclay was around next Thursday and free to come to No 10 for a cup of tea, around 1700 if that suits?

Perhaps you would be kind enough to let me know.

With regards to timing, if they could arrive for drinks at 2015 then they can aim to sit down for dinner just gone 2030. It will just be the four of them and no doubt the PM will just have them up to their flat.

I believe David Cameron and Aidan Barclay were texting last week and agreed to meet for dinner. So to follow up from that the PM and Mrs Cameron would like to invite Mr and Mrs Aidan Barclay to dinner at No 10 on Thursday 18th November.

Apologies I can't offer any more options, however that is the last free date I have this year that they can both make!

Perhaps you would be kind enough to let me know if that works for the Barclays? If not, we can look at dates for the New Year.
