Dear Mr Bryant

Re: Disclosure Request

I write further to my colleague's letter dated 13 August 2009.

We have now completed a search of all the material that was seized as part of our investigation into the intercept activity of Mr Mulcaire and Mr Goodman in 2005/2006.

There is some documentation in our possession to suggest that you may have been a person of interest to Mr Mulcaire. During the investigation, one piece of paper was found which contained the name Chris Bryant and a mobile telephone number [redacted] written underneath it. It appears that this number was attributed to you by Mr Mulcaire. However, we have no documentation in our possession to indicate that you were a target of Mr Mulcaire or that he unlawfully intercepted any of your mobile voicemail messages.

It is not necessarily correct to assume that Mr Mulcaire's possession of the above information was for the purposes of interception and it is not known what his intentions were or how he intended to use it. However, if you remain concerned as to whether your communications may have been unlawfully intercepted, may we suggest you contact your phone service provider who may be able to assist further.

Yours sincerely

Emma Harraway
