Dear Superintendent Haydon

Further to Colin Myler's letter to you of 13th October and our subsequent conversations, I enclose a list of reporters and desk staff on the News of the World's news and features departments during 2005-2006. Those staff members who still work here are in the section coloured green and those who have departed are in yellow. You will see that departure dates are included on the list where appropriate.

I explained during our last conversation that we are a little concerned about providing home addresses without the specific permission of the people concerned. You intimated that, in relation to current staff, you were content to write to them at the office address and suggested that they could be all sent to me as a single package for distribution. For the record, I agree to that course and undertake to confirm in writing to you when all intended recipients have their letters or, alternatively, to explain in individual cases why not.

Is that agreeable to you?

In relation to relevant individuals who no longer work here, you agreed that the names alone would suffice.

Regards.

Yours sincerely

Tom Crone
Legal Manager

Dear Sir / Madam,

You may be aware that various press and media channels have reported on allegations of unlawful interception of mobile telephones or what has become commonly known as 'phone hacking', allegedly involving The News of the World.

The Dispatches programme "Tabloids, Tories and Telephone Hacking", broadcast 4th October 2010 also covered similar issues.

The Metropolitan Police Service is currently considering any new material that has recently come to light as a result of this reporting and as such, is making contact with various individuals to establish if they can assist with any evidence relating to these allegations.

I understand you were employed on either the News or Features desks during the relevant period - 2005/06. If you feel you are able to assist, and I stress this is in relation to the issue of 'phone hacking' only, then I request you make contact with me on the contact details provided in this letter.

Should no response be received by Friday 29th October 2010, then I will presume you are unable or not prepared to assist further in this matter.

Yours faithfully,

Dean Haydon
Detective Superintendent
