PCC seminar for magazine journalists, editors and lawyers – 7th November 2005

The PCC is having a magazine training seminar on the 7th November.

We are holding a series of similar events with journalists from different sectors, and have so far received some very positive feedback. I am enclosing a selection of comments which followed the previous two seminars, which were for national newspaper news editors and picture editors.

The idea is to engage with people who make decisions about the Code of Practice but who might not necessarily have regular contact with the Commission. It is quite a fun and informal event with drinks, and is free. Previous attendees have also commented that it is a good event at which to catch up with their peers from other publications.

It will start at 7pm in the Bridewell Suite of the Crowne Plaza Hotel, which is just next to Blackfriars tube station, and should be over by 9pm.

This might be of interest to a number of people on the magazine, so please do let my PA know by 25th October who will be attending so that we have an idea of numbers. Her e-mail address is

With kind regards.
