The meeting request with Hunt has already gone in. At this moment we don't know for sure what the meeting is about and who it's with. WS are working on all the angles and, of course, the alliance group are discussing the options going forward.

On the basis of this (which would appear to be correct?) doesn't the alliance need to re-group about what we should do next? Should we ask for a meeting with Hunt? And think again about the pr/consumer angle? (as we discussed friday and this am).
