1. INTRODUCTION.

- 1.1. This policy outlines both the Force's corporate use and also that of its officers and staff personal use of social networking and video sharing websites such as Twitter, Facebook, YouTube and blogs, and with immediate effect replaces Part One order 34/2009 which is now withdrawn.
- 1.2. This policy should be read in conjunction with the series of guidance documents which are available on the Corporate Communications Department intranet site (Local Policing > Corporate Communications > Social media).

2. BACKGROUND.

- 2.1 The use of digital and social media has a clear and continuing impact on all areas of policing, from local policing to public order, investigation to major incidents. The impact is specifically around engagement, transparency, accountability, intelligence and investigations. This is increasingly important given the evolving policing landscape around democratic accountability, increased public involvement in policing and the changes in society which are seeing increased numbers of people using online services in all aspects of their lives.
- 2.2 The police service already has a broad tradition of community engagement which recognises the need for responsiveness, visibility and accountability. West Midlands Police recognises that traditional methods of communicating messages which have been relied on in the past are having less impact and are reaching fewer people. Therefore there is a real need to embrace other growing forms of communication.
- 2.3 Easy access to technology, inexpensive 'always on' broadband connections and the growing use of mobile internet access means that an online presence is part of everyday life. West Midlands Police has embraced this new form of communication as part of our strategy to engage the public, ensuring we evolve and develop our methods in line with those used by the public.

3. PERSONAL AND CORPORATE ACCOUNT SECURITY.

- 3.1 Due to potential risks to the security of personal information of the user, their family and their friends, all officers and staff should be aware of the need to protect themselves and their personal information online whilst using all personal social media accounts.
- 3.2 Ensure that your security settings on social media accounts are set to the maximum for personal safety.
- 3.3 When posting information on social media sites, both personal and corporate, consider the risks:
 - Personal safety and exploitation of personal information. Avoid providing addresses, phone numbers, email addresses etc.
 - The security of the organisation.
 - Security of information relating to family, friends and other contacts.
 - Indirect reference to their role or the organisation.
 - If you are using a mobile device, consider turning off any GPS / location tracking options within social media apps that identify your location.

RESTRICTED

- 3.4 Officers and staff should be careful about making reference to West Midlands Police on personal social media accounts, particularly if comments are critical, or ridicule the organisation, or other colleagues.
- 3.5 Whilst it is acknowledged by the Force that officers and staff may choose to use their own personal mobile phones to update their corporate social media accounts, users are reminded to be careful about the security of their own equipment. If a personal mobile device with a police social network is lost, the officer or member of staff should contact the Corporate Communications Department as soon as possible.
- 3.6 Any lost phones or computers with West Midlands Police social media accounts should be reported to the multi-media team so that the account can be protected.
- 3.7 The administrator of any social media account is responsible for the management of the password of the account. The administrator should observe appropriate security levels in relation to these shared account passwords. Administrators should keep details of all staff members with access, and change passwords when team membership changes.
- 3.8 If you use third party apps make sure you read the small print before signing up. For example, any photos added to Twitpic are then owned and can be used by Twitpic.

4. PRIVATE USE OF SOCIAL NETWORKING AND VIDEO SHARING SITES.

- 4.1 All staff are accountable for whatever they put into the public domain even in a privately held account. Inappropriate use or inappropriate disclosure of personal information on social networking and video sharing sites is subject to criminal proceedings (in accordance with s55 of the Data Protection Act it is a criminal offence to disclose personal information unlawfully) and/or misconduct procedures.
- 4.2 Officers and members of police staff who use their personal details to contribute to social networking, blogs and video sharing websites should take into consideration the fact they will be placing personal details into the public domain. This may impact on their own privacy, the security of family and friends, and in particular may compromise their vetting status or ability to be deployed on certain types of policing such as undercover or covert operations.
- 4.3 Users should also be aware that the media use social media to gather information about officers and staff, including personal details, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses and links, images and interests, and are entitled to report on anything posted.
- 4.4 All officers and staff must note that any comments made on social media will be deemed to be in the public domain and could be liable to a misconduct severity assessment. This applies to both personal and corporate sites.
- 4.5 To protect the reputation of the Force, and its individual officers and staff, users should not express personal views which may be controversial, derogatory towards colleagues or conflict with organisational views on police social media pages.
- 4.6 Comments made on personal sites should not reveal confidential information or jeopardise operational matters.
- 4.7 When using private networking, blogs and video sharing websites, no use may be made of the West Midlands Police name, crest or insignia without the express permission of the Corporate Communications Department. Consideration must also be given to any other matters of copyright.
