DID YOU spend all day yesterday, shopping for Christmas presents on the internet? Neither did I - but apparently it was the busiest shopping day online ever. What's the panic? Christmas is still three weeks away, yet we are being led to believe we've left it too late.

That's because shops have been insisting that you 'Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas' since September and that by now the piles of tinsel rubbish and rampant consumerism, far from filling me with Christmas spirit, have turned me into John Osborne.

The secret of getting gift buying wrapped

"I know all that," said my cousin, "but I do make my presents."

'Drowned' father turns up 5 years later

Man is arrested after mother plunges 15ft to death at pub night out

By John Chapman

A MOTHER of three plunged 15ft to her death during a Christmas night-out at a pub in what was feared to be a random attack.

The body of 46-year-old Louise Burke, 46, was found on a footpath at the back of the city-centre building.

Devastated

Over the weekend officers were questioned by detectives and shown CCTV footage of the scene before any have been reviewed in the past.

'Drowned' father turns up 5 years later

A FATHER, missing for five years since he was presumed dead in a camping accident, walked into a police station at the weekend.

TRAGEDY: Businesswoman Louise Burke whose body was found on a footpath at the back of a pub

Henkman, 47, was identified as the father of a missing person who can only have been declared dead after several years.

HICKEY

FORNER Tory minister Patrick Forner's decision to accept David Cameron's new offer to become an adviser to the party on military matters has raised plenty of eyebrows among Tory colleagues.

AS BONES JOHNSON's resignation in the wake of the Hickey inquiry has raised eyebrows between the Tory and Labour MPs.

VINCE CARBER has been placed on his own as temporary Lib Dem leader - so much so that hundreds of Lib Dem members, disappointed that he isn't standing for the permanent post, are said to be spending their leafletting time with the word 'Vince'.

HENRY 'THE FONG' WINKLER has been leaving in a huff, although it's been laugh on his lips. The 62-year-old actor, who is starring in a new play, has been leaving the New Theatre in Woking.

WARREN MITCHELL, best known as an MP, has decided not to return to the House of Commons after five years in the wilderness.

challenge churchill

By Maceo Neil Political Editor

DAVID Cameron was last night coming under pressure to support the Daily Express crusade to scrap inheritance tax.

Senior Tory MPs want their leader to make abolition the stated reason for a central plank of their party's manifesto at the next general election.

They have set out the reasons why for the Daily Express website as evidence voters want an end to Chancellor Gordon Brown's policy of taxing families.

Thousands more readers yesterday signed their names to our petition demanding the abolition of inheritance tax - on the Number 10 website. By last night more than 22,000 had signed up, making it by far the fastest-growing petition on the Internet.

Tories told: Axe inheritance tax if you want to win the election

DAILY EXPRESS NEW INHERITANCE TAX CRUSADE

DAVID Cameron and his Shadow Chancellor George Osborne have refused to meet any compromise in ending tax.

They had been told Lee Scott said: 'Many of my constituents from all sorts of backgrounds - working class and middle class alike - complain to me about inheritance tax.'

It is quite simply unfair. In many cases, it takes away property that has been bought, with money that has already been taxed.

Personal possessions such as clothes and jewellery, as well as family homes, often have to be sold out to pay the inheritance tax.

Osborne accuses the Chancellor of failing to raise the inheritance tax threshold - currently £250,000 - to ease the burden on those who have to pay the tax.

SPREAD THE WORD ON OUR CRUSADE

THOUSANDS of Daily Express readers are signing petitions, family and work colleagues to our crusade to scrap inheritance tax.

Use your home computer to sign the petition or use a friend's... or you can use the computers at the local library

Blair shamed Britain over Saudi arms probe

Judges savage 'unlawful' axing of bribes inquiry

By Patrick Flanagan

LABOUR was left deeply embarrassed last night after judges savaged a Government decision to drop the bribery probe into a £42-billion BAE Systems arms deal with Saudi Arabia. The High Court ruled the Her Majesty's Customs and Excise investigation into the deal was unlawful. It was a humiliating rebuke to Tony Blair and former Attorney General Lord Goldsmith, who had pressed for the probe to be ended. The BAE's investigations spanned over the 1993 deal which provided Tharwaad and Hawk jets, plus other military equipment, to Saudi Arabia in December 2006. Lord Goldsmith, who oversaw the BAE, announced that the probe into whether BAE paid a secret multi-million pound bribe to help win contracts was to be discontinued. The decision severely dented Britain's reputation worldwide and prompted criticism from the Opposition and Development which insisted on a full investigation. Yesterday's ruling will renew pressure on the Government to re-open the bribery investigation. It was a victory for anti-bribery pressure group Greener Lines Research and the Campaign Against Arms Trade, which said that Saudi officials had used their power to obtain access to secret British arms technology. Lord Goldsmith had ordered the probe to be ended. He said that Saudi officials had used their power to obtain access to secret British arms technology. # Trio checked out targets for 7/7 killers, court told

By John Timoney

THREE Islamic extremists revealed court, also including the London 7/7, the British al-Qaeda, and the Muslim Brotherhood in London, on the 7/7 bombings, a court judge told yesterday. The trio checked out and targeted by the killers. Back in 2001, the court ruled that the three men, Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, Khalid bin Muhammad, and Khalid bin Muhammad, were the main perpetrators of the 7/7 bombings. The court also found that the three men were involved in the planning and execution of the attacks. The court's decision is a significant step in the investigation into the 7/7 bombings.

Family's tears over let-off for job driver who left boy, 4, to die

By Paul Brooker

A COUPLE wept tears of anger last night as an outcasted hit-and-run driver who killed their young son escaped a prison sentence. James Dignane, 31, snarled down four-year-old Casey O'Callaghan and left him to die after reversing the wrong way down a one-way street. The driver was charged with manslaughter and driving without a licence. The court heard that the driver had been drinking and driving without a licence. # Widow speaks out for the victims of violence

By Aileen Liffie

THE widow of a man killed in death by drunken motorists yesterday said violence was treated casually and she was angry to see her husband's name in today's paper. Helen Newlove, whose husband, Gary, was killed outside their home in Warrington, complained that offenders were being let off too easily. She said that the courts were treating the offenders too leniently. She said that the courts were treating the offenders too leniently.
