- Sexual offences blanket anonymity unless voluntarily lifted
- Juveniles orders normally apply unless public interest
- Family courts generally restricted but reporting allowed (problem with miscarriage of justice v criminal court Roy meadows)

 Injunctions – Carr, Thompson, Venables (Carr injunction changed so we cant say type of work she is doing)

11. If it all goes wrong

Apologies -

Our obituary of Lord Cottesloe, published yesterday contained very serious errors because wrong material, which did not relate to Lord Cottesloe or his family, was inadvertently incorporated. In offering our most sincere apologies to Lady Cottesloe and all members of the family we are particularly mindful of the gross and deeply hurtful mis-statement published yesterday that Lord Cottesloe's daughter and his second wife, who is Lord Cottesloe's surviving widow, both died from gunshot wounds sustained in accidents in the gunroom of Meiklour House.

We are well aware, and are most contrite in acknowledging that no such accidents ever occurred, that Lord Cottesloe sis not have a daughter named Caroline, nor did he have an estate in Perthshire or Wiltshire, and that Lady Cottesloe, Lord Cottesloe's second wife, has in fact, survived him.

In setting the records straight, we repeat our apologies for these grievous errors.

Damages – Arkel v Pressdam

A's solicitors demanded apology and costs and said "his attitude to damages will be governed by the nature of your reply"

Private eye responded " we note Mr A's attitude to damages will be governed by the nature of our reply, We would be grateful if you would inform us what his attitude to damages would be were he to learn that the nature of our reply is as follows: F... Off".

Prison

3rd Party can be ordered to pay costs for a trial thrown away
